New Online Video Promotion Makes You A Star and Pays Cash Money

Merrillville, IN – Tuesday, September 30, 2014 RazzmatazzTV.com's $5 Holla program promotes businesses by offering a documentary style online video capturing their employees and customers experiencing their services or products. The show's creator, Darlene M. Washington states, "We are excited to offer new and innovative ways to enhance online promotion. Click on ads fight for your attention. The $5 Holla is an entertaining online video show inside of a promotion with a regular fan base. Participants have better recall than any radio, TV or print ad, because they become an instant star of the promotion and walk away with cash money! We are challenging online promotion!!

The host, Rapper Trey Washington of Youtube.com/DMWBooks and Youtube.com/MrTrepound3lb delights the customers by asking crazy questions, offering business trivia and/or requesting celebrity impersonations rewarding customers with $5 Cash. It's definitely a new approach to customer and employee appreciation. What makes the $5 Holla unique is its FREE long-term permanent social media exposure. Essentially, businesses and customers are captured for as long as there is the world wide web. Don't you just love it!
